

THE TWO DIVINE PROMISES (given to a soul in Poland 1954, 1979)

I have chosen you, and to you I entrust the task of spreading these joyous tidings. The time is approaching when that which the human mind could but slightly conceive will be realised in the most beautiful manner.

I am He who offered Himself on the Cross of Salvation to My Eternal Father.

To you I entrust in God's Name a gift of My Father, The Two Divine Promises, which will gain for My chosen people a heavenly Kingdom offered to Me by My Father for those who shall receive it, thanks to My immolation.

Those who respond to My appeal and attain the grace of eternal salvation for themselves may also - in imitation of My generosity - obtain a similar grace for others.

I entrust to you those Two Divine Promises to pass on to the whole world!.

Divine Promise

Each priest who worthily offers the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for thirty (30) consecutive days and, in addition, makes the Stations of the Cross daily will receive for himself, and for another soul selected by him, the assurance of Eternal Salvation.

Divine Promise

Likewise, each individual who will receive Holy Communion worthily for thirty (30) consecutive days, and will recite one Our Father and Hail Mary for the welfare of the Holy Catholic Church, will receive for himself and one other soul selected by him, the assurance of Eternal Salvation.
